Tour down Under -congratulations to everyone for patience in the face of adversity. At least we did manage to see what a different site feels like. We are talking to council to see what can be done. Katerina & Jen made the most of the weather serving iced coffee and refreshing real lemonade helping to keep us all cool.

New Manager Vardy Hirst, our new Market Manager will be introduced to stallholders today, so let's give her a real market welcome. Vardy has had a busy career in food and hospitality, and among many other things, was the Ayers Rock Resort Food and Beverage Manager, managing 3 restaurants, bars and a staff of 40!

So we should be a doddle! Vardy will be starting formally on the 13th February and using the first few weeks to settle in to her new position.

Publicity - Lots of publicity this week for the Market, see below....

Welcome to new stallholders. Great to see rabbits in the paddock - see Simon for a delicious rabbit and mustard recipe.

Sponsorship - thanks to Salopian, Fox Creek and the Onkaparinga Council, for their sponsorship of our next printing of Market bags.

Breakfast Tender This is Jude and Ian's last breakfast effort, as the almond harvest starts this month. On behalf of everyone - Jude and Ian take a bow, a remarkable dedication to the cause and a huge contribution ensuring a successful financial end to our first year. Thankyou from everyone! It also means we need volunteers to assist the Manager with info and breakfast stalls until we have filled the tender - contact Simon today.

Audit Please get those forms back to the office as soon as possible so that work can progress on the database. Once our database is up and running, we really will be cooking with gas!

Birthday celebrations Our birthday is fast approaching and we have already begun to put in place a few activities. Keep weekend of 22 February free!

Film Night next Sunday will be our last film night. Penelope Cruz will be cooking up a storm at the Olive Groves in Woman of Top, a light hearted look at life as a celebrity TV chef. Unfortunately last week's film was cancelled due to diabolical weather!!!! So see you Sunday night under the stars.

ITS YOUR MARKET SO GET INTO IT!
